III. General professional experience:

I am a partner in the New York City office of Phillips Lytle LLP. My practice consists of conducting and supervising general corporate and bankruptcy litigation and alternative dispute resolution in a variety of venues (primarily Federal Courts). My client base is and ranges from banks to international businesses to bankruptcy debtors and creditors. My practice is further diversified as a result of my appointments as a Chapter 11 Trustee - Southern District of New York; Certified Guardian and Court Evaluator - State of New York; and a Mediator - Southern District of New York.

IV. General pertinent experience:

I have participated as counsel, or as a mediator in numerous successful mediations of bankruptcy cases in both the U.S. Bankruptcy Courts and District Courts.

I have served as a Chapter 11 or Liquidating Trustee primarily in small- to medium-sized Southern District bankruptcy cases. The cases in which I have served have been complex and particularly litigious, both among the parties in interest and even toward the Trustee. It has therefore often fallen to me to either moderate these differences (whenever possible) before litigating their resolution or find creative solutions.

V. Mediation training:

Mediation Skills Training sponsored by the NASDR, Inc. and USBC-SDNY.

VI. Pertinent bankruptcy training:

I have represented debtors, creditors (individual and corporate) and committees in numerous, complex Chapter 11 adversary proceedings over the past 20 years.

VII. General pertinent business or legal expenses:

I have practiced as a commercial litigator for the past 30 years. During 20 of these years, a part of my focus has been litigation in bankruptcy cases which presented a wide variety of legal problems requiring sophisticated solutions. I have taught as an Adjunct Professor at Columbia University School of Law, and I am a contributing author to Commercial Damages: A Guide to Remedies in Business Litigation (C. Knapp, 1998).
